After serving in the United States Army, Norm worked at Woolworth's Company. He was a previous owner of St. John's Business Machine and a previous owner of Express-Press, Inc. Norm and Karan also served faithfully at their home church, North Naples Baptist Church.

Norm was a wise, godly man who lived for his family. He adored his wife, Karan, with whom he shared fifty-six years of marriage. Together, they built a family that loved God, shared His Gospel, and lived generously. Norm was truly the rock of his family; he "trusted in the Lord with all his heart and leaned not on his own understanding. In all his ways, he acknowledged Him, and the Lord directed his path" (Proverbs 3:5-6).

Whether devoting his love to his wife, taking his children and grandchildren out for breakfasts, leading Sunday School, or mentoring others, Norm lived a full, intentional life. He was a beloved husband, father, Papa, son, brother, and friend; God will say to him, "Well done my good and faithful servant" (Matthew 25:23).

Norm's family looks forward to the day we will be reunited with him in Christ. "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" (Joshua 24:15).

The family wishes to extend their gratitude to Senior 1 Care.
